The News in Brief National and Collegiate

Washington, D. C.—Meeting today, the representatives of the railroad operators and unions will try to reach an agreement permitting the government to turn the railroads back to the owners.

Lake Success, N. Y.—The United States asked that the United Nations security council declare the war in Palestine a "breach of world peace" and order an immediate cease fire by Arab and Jewish forces.

Chicago—Federal conciliators have arranged new conferences in an effort to settle the two-month-old nationwide meat strike. Gov. Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota will fly to Chicago to participate.

Washington, D. C.—President Truman announced that the U.S. has successfully tested three improved atomic weapons, and that "the tests indicate very substantial progress." There was no information released on what the improved weapons are, or how the tests were conducted.

Frankfurt, Germany—A B-29 Superfortress took off from the Rhein-Main airport, bearing the body of Father Edward Flanagan back to Boys Town, Neb. Father Flanagan was the founder of the haven of youth.

Salt Lake City—The Wallace for President committee, announced that Sen. Glen H. Taylor, Wallace's running mate, will speak at a series of two-day meetings in Utah.

Berkeley, Calif.—The University of California's seismograph recorded a moderate earthquake lasting 1½ hours. The quake was centered somewhere in the Aleutians, where another similar shock was recorded last Friday.

Hollywood, Calif.—Betty Jane Rase, wife of Mickey Rooney, filed suit for divorce from the movie actor. The action charged Rooney with cruelty. Her attorney said that a property settlement had been reached.

Three to Take CPA Exams

Fred A. Henningsen and O. F. Rydell, assistant instructors, and J. M. Meunier, senior in the business administration school, will take the CPA examination at the capitol in Helena Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Given by the Montana State Board of Examiners in Accountancy, the examination covers four sections: commercial law, theory of accounts, auditing, and accounting practice.

Henningsen and Rydell have completed the first three sections, and have only the accounting practice section remaining. Meunier will take all four sections.

This is a uniform examination, given twice a year in 47 states and 1 the territories, and covering 1½ hours of examination time. It is graded by the American Institute of Accountancy in New York, and results may be expected in approximately two months.

Prof's Paintings To Be Exhibited

A group of paintings by William A. McCloy, University of Wisconsin art professor, are on exhibition in the auditorium of the Fine Arts building until May 23, according to Aden F. Arnold, assistant professor of fine arts.

The exhibit, which is open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on week days, includes some fine examples of portraiture as well as some rather painted satire having social implications, Arnold said.

"Whether one is in agreement with

General Upston Will Visit ROTC Unit

Maj. Gen. John E. Upston, commander of the 4th Air Force at Hamilton Field, Calif., is expected to arrive by army plane Thursday evening for a short visit at ROTC headquarters, Maj. Joseph S. Conlin said yesterday.

General Upston will visit at ROTC headquarters Friday morning, then after a short visit with President McCain, the general will fly to Washington.

General Upston was transferred to Hamilton field January from Air Force headquarters at Washington, D. C., where he served two years as chief of personnel. Since he began his military career in 1917, General Upston has served as junior military aide to the White house, chief of Air corps (plans division), chief of the Africa-Middle East section, War Department operations division, and chief of staff of the 20th Bomber command (which was the first B-29 unit to operate against Japan).

McCloy's social comment or not," Arnold said, "they in no way detract from the fine composition and magnificent craftsmanship of his work."

"The show should be of interest to the technically minded observer as well as to those who are interested in what some of our contemporary artists have to say about our present civilization and culture."

AWS To Sponsor Miss Montana Again Next Year

Associated Women Students' council voted last week to sponsor the 1949 Miss Montana selection and campaign according to Dorothy Jean Working, Wilsall, president.

The decision to repeat the handling of the Miss Montana arrangements came after changes in this year's procedure had been discussed.

AWS will co-ordinate a planning committee headed by a general chairman with a 10 member board in charge of publicity, public relations, campus culture, talent show, pageant management, pageant production, finance and scholarship, coronation ball, selection, and judging.

Candidates for committee chairmen may be either men or women students. They are to be recommended to AWS council with their qualifications for the job, Miss Working said. She asked that applications be submitted this week.

Glib Profs Overbid MSC Speakers

Statistics certainly testify to the speaking skill of the MSU faculty. In the next three weeks 13 members of the faculty will deliver a total of 37 commencement addresses in high schools throughout the state.

The "cow college" has only five speakers giving 16 speeches—at least there shouldn't be any argument with them on that score. They don't have a platform to stand on.

AWS Plans to Remodel Counselor System; Hartin Heads Revision Council

Barbara Hartin, Spokane, was selected by the AWS council to head the counselor-counselee system for next fall's class of freshmen women, according to Dorothy Jean Working, Wilsall, AWS president.

After attending a regional AWS conference at the University of Washington early this month, Montana representatives brought back plans for a revised counselor system.

PDT Honors H.S. Seniors

One hundred and twenty-six high school seniors were honor guests at Phi Delta Theta's annual Montana Men's dinner Friday evening.

Toastmaster Burly Miller introduced to an after-dinner audience, President McCain, Doug Fessenden, Harry Adams and Dean Maucker who talked on MSU and what it has to offer educationally and athletically.

Burly Miller made clear the position of a college coach in the Pacific Coast conference saying that a mentor cannot contact an athlete but that an athlete interested in college sports may write to a coach and get a satisfactory answer as to his prospects in that particular school.

President McCain told of the chances of an athlete to become a good one in a small college. He backed his statement up by saying that a coach in a small college has more time to spend developing talent.

"Keynotes of the new program will be a reduced number of counselors and an extended orientation period for freshman women," Miss Hartin said.

Council Selected

From applications filed by upperclass women, AWS council will select a 40-member honor council. A counselor instruction course will be conducted during the final week of spring quarter. During the summer counselors will be notified of the freshman girls placed under their guidance.

"Aside from correspondence, most of the counselor's work will be done during the first weeks of school," Miss Hartin said.

"We feel that by reducing the number of counselors and placing five freshmen instead of one, as has been done in the past, within the upperclassman's guidance will lead to a more closely-knit system," Miss Hartin said. "From the counselor's point of view, the system increases the responsibility and honor of being selected to counselor's council, and at the same time gives the freshman woman a more informed and efficient counselor."

Notification of appointment to counselor council will be made during the next two weeks.

Danny Congratulates His Record Breaker

Dan Yovetich, Butte, MSU's star hurdler, is shown congratulating Don McAuliffe, Butte Public hurdler. McAuliffe broke Yovetich's 1941 high hurdles record, and set a mark of 14.8 seconds for a new Interscholastic record. Dan's mark was 14.9.

MSU—Emerging from Darkness

The high school youths of the state did a good job at Inter-scholastic—they put on a good show, and many of them had a fine time. No doubt many MSU students had a fine vacation too, but while taking the two-day break did we make use of the time by doing our part in promoting the University? Let's hope we did because it's about the best chance we have to show the high school students of Montana what Montana has to offer in education.

In past years, and in years to come, some of the best Montana talent follows, and will follow, the beckoning finger of out-of-state colleges and universities. The fault does not fall on the qualities of education within our state for surely we possess some of the finest departments and schools in not only the northwest but in the U. S. There are some feasible excuses for students going elsewhere such as into medical and engineering fields and this is taken into consideration.

In the past two years Montana has expanded public relations facilities and this year increased the speed to a high tempo, but without student help from the campus the program cannot succeed to its fullest extent. The week end presented a wonderful opportunity to extend the help needed. Congratulations to those who gave time to encourage prospective college students in Montana State University, and thanks to those organizations that entertained and housed contestants and visitors. Many did their part toward keeping Montana students in Montana.—P.H.

MSU Social Whirl

State-wide high school visitors at the Alpha Phi house for track-meet numbered 31. Other guests were Garnet Dahlmer '47, Columbus; Una May Arras '47, Seattle; and Pat Payne, ex-'50, Billings.

About 125 high school boys and coaches attended the annual Montana Men's dinner that was given at the Phi Delt house Friday evening. Faculty members and speakers were: President McCain, Burly Miller, Doug Fessenden, Jiggs Dahlberg, Harry Adams, Dean J. W. Maucker, and Dean Robert Bates. "J" McCracken introduced the speakers and Burly Miller acted as master of ceremonies.

SAE Elects

Officers were elected Monday evening at the SAE house. George Remington, Anaconda, is correspondent; Bert Gaskill, Dillon, is chronicler; Jim Graham, Columbus, will take over as warden; Peder Moe, Poplar, is the new chaplain; Mark Sullivan, Butte, is herald; and Tom Cacavas, Butte, is assistant house manager.

Peder Moe was awarded a fraternity ring for being the outstanding pledge for 1947-48. His name was also inscribed on the SAE award plaque. Speaking of pledges, Gordon Samuelson, Brockton, is a new SAE pledge.

Rings, Pins, Music

Love came shining through to the tune of three engagement rings, a pin hanging and a serenade.

Lorraine Kurfiss, Sheridan, received a diamond from Jim Bottomly, Helena. Another Helena fellow, Pat Campbell, gave his girl, Marilyn Scott, Choteau, a ring. Lucy Rowton, Mosby, received a diamond from John Calfee '47, Frazier.

Laurie Johnson, Walla Walla, Wash., received a Sigma Chi pin from Bozeman Sig Earl Nadeau, Great Falls. The Sig Eps serenaded Margaret Klingler, Missoula, Monday night.

Jitney dance chaperones at the A-Phi house Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ring and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Blakeslee, Missoula.

Trackmeet has come and gone, but the memory of that action-filled weekend will burn long in the minds of the multitude of high school visitors to our campus.

Numbered among them were Dick Boody, Ted Reimann, Lylal Piatte, Dean Schields, Harold Nickelson, Brine White, and "Buzzy" Flanagan, Columbus; Larry Wustner and Bob Graham, Plains; Dave Spagen, Red Lodge; and Bill Lorenz, Augusta, who were guests of the Phi Sigs. Former Phi Sig and coach of the Columbus aggregate, "Dutch" Dahlmer, was also a guest.

Included among the 24 guests at the Sigma Chi house were the members of the championship Billings track squad. Dick Carstensen, Helena, paid his respects to the Sigs this week end, too.

Pajama Party

The 50 North Hall Interscholastic guests were entertained Thursday evening at a pajama party. The program consisted of group

Delta Gamma track guests were: Patty Perry, Alice Mary Johnson, and Joan Mueller, Cut Bank; Frances Foster, Great Falls; JoAnn Judd, Annemarie Beatty, and Elizabeth Booth, Helena; Lolly Koefod and Stella Fortin, Havre; Polly Aisthorpe, Marilyn Markes, Shirlene Stevenson, and Teresa Bugli, Stevensville; Colleen Salsbury, Anaconda; Joan Gibson, Mary Lou Thomas, and Jane Dougherty, Butte; Helen Brandt and Jerry Jane Warren, Spokane, Wash.; Billie Jean Smart, Livingston; Pat Stewart, Carly Bramlett, and Rita Lonegan, Fort Benton.

Co-op week end guests included six high school girls from Valier and an old timer and former Co-op girl, Leona Lampi '46 who has been working for the legation of Finland in Washington, D. C.

Gene Schultz and Dean Albert of Ekalaka were dinner guests at the Phi Sig house Sunday and Estella Baker's sister was a Co-op dinner guest Sunday.

Saturday and Sunday brought the dawn of a new year to Ethel England and Mary Jane Lindstrom who celebrated their birthdays on those days at parties given by the Co-op girls.

TIGER'S HISTORY CORRECTED BY DUTCH

Dear Editor:

One of my fraternity's most august alums has honored us with his presence for the track meet period. The alumnus' name is Henry "Dutch" Dahlmer, and he knew the late Tiger perhaps better than anyone else alive. Dutch is disturbed by one important inaccuracy in your otherwise fine editorial concerning the deceased canine. Tiger first came to the Phi Sigma Kappa house in 1940. He was our fraternity mascot from that time until we closed for the war in June, 1943. Miss Tannis Brown consented to keep Tiger until the end of the war and so it's as her dog that he is remembered by most of the present student body. After Tannis's graduation in 1947, Tiger returned to his original home with the fraternity brothers.

Respectfully yours,
Dick Merritt

P. S. — Tiger got his distinctive handle in 1940 when he was named after Phi Sig alumnus "Tiger Joe" Mariana.

(Ed. Note—Apologies, Dick, but I couldn't find many who had "any time" on Tiger.)

Baseball Squad Wins Three In Home Debut

Baseball fans who took time off from interscholastic festivities today and Saturday to see the Grizzlies win three games in a successful home debut were treated to many thrills.

As Montana took a pair from Northern Idaho Loggers, 5-4 and 6-3 Friday, and defeated the Bozeman Independents, 5-4 Saturday, spectators saw four home runs, four double plays, good pitching, and exceptional fielding by Montana. To add to the thrills, in all three games the Grizzlies saved off late opponent rallies after building up comfortable leads in the early innings.

In the opener against Northern Idaho, Jim Lucas, Grizzly pitcher, retired the side in the ninth inning by a strike-out after the Loggers had rallied for two runs on two walks and a homer. Grizzly hurler Jack O'Loughlin had the rightcap under control, 6-0, until the eighth frame when the Loggers picked him for four hits and three runs.

Winning his fourth straight game, Bob Holding, Grizzly pitcher, experienced the same trouble as the Bozeman game as had Lucas. Montana led 5-1 until the ninth inning when Bozeman scored three runs in a rally also capped by a homer.

In the three victories, the Grizzlies showed their prowess. Bob Holding hit a homer in the second out of the inning with one aboard. Ted Tabaracci slammed a long homer, his third of the season, against Bozeman. In that game, Tabaracci also made a sensational shoestring catch of a liner in right field and threw to Cope at first for a double play.

Ted Hilgenstuhler, alert shortstop, stole home in the Logger rightcap and collaborated with Bob Nicol, Capt. John Holding, and Cope for two double plays in the three games. Outfielder Howard Armstrong collected the most Grizzly hits, five, in 14 times at bat. The Grizzlies gave Lucas errorless support in the first game.

MSU Cowboy Ties for First

Don Harrington, Butte, tied with Ralph Cunningham, MSC, for the best all-around cowboy award at the MSC Intercollegiate rodeo in Bozeman Sunday.

The Bobcats won the rodeo with MSU second and Dickinson (N.D.) State Teachers college third.

Harrington scored top points with a second in bareback riding, a second in calf roping, and a third in wild cow milking. Stan Stevens, Missoula, was mugging for Harrington in the wild cow milking.

Jim Moore, Two Dot, scored a second in the saddle bronc riding. Orville Rostad, Lennop, and George Gogas, Missoula, were the other members of the MSU team.

Harrington was awarded a silver belt buckle with a mounted inlaid gold steer head for winning the all-around cowboy prize. No one suffered any broken bones but some of the contestants were shaken up a bit.

Grizzlies Best Zag Tennis Team Twice

Competition was keen, but Coach Jules Karlin's netmen boasted a season record of five wins in seven starts here Saturday when they defeated Gonzaga twice, 5-2 and 4½-2½.

All games were long, closely contested, and featured long rallies. Avenging an early season 3-4 defeat at Spokane, Montana played consistently improved tennis in the two grudge matches with the Bulldogs.

The spotlight was focused on the singles matches between Wayne Cumming, Montana captain, and Joe Brasch, the Zag's No. 1 man. Acutely conscious that Cumming had bested him in the early season match, Brasch downed the Grizzly captain in Saturday's first match, 6-3, 6-4, to even their season count.

In the afternoon encounter, Cumming bounced back to defeat Brasch who played No. 1 for Washington State last year, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1. During the match, Bruce Beatty, assistant Grizzly mentor, said that Brasch's cannon ball first service is as swift as that of Pancho Gonzalez, one of America's leading amateurs, whom he has seen in action. Last year, Brasch was triumphant against Montana's Bev Garrett.

Grizzly Bill Jardine continued to show marked improvement as he won matches in both rounds. Playing No. 2 in the first round, he won from the Zag's Jack Telefon and then trimmed John Schwarz, who had beaten him in three sets in the first meeting at Spokane this year. Schwarz and Telefon alternate between the No. 2 and 3 positions for the Bulldogs.

Gene Annas of Montana and Schwarz battled three sets in the

An Old Man's Game Golf

BY RON RICE

Golf is an old man's game. Everyone says that it is, so maybe they are right, but I am not inclined to agree with them.

Several days ago I shouldered my set of clubs and set off for the university golf course to play a fast round.

After a lay-off during the winter season, I found that the only thing wrong with my game was that I was standing too close to the ball after the swing was completed. Cheating a little, I took a 9 score on the first hole.

My game did not improve as the afternoon wore on. (I mean that literally.) The only time I was on the fairway was when I was crossing from one side to the other.

At the fifth tee-box I was amazed to find that the course extended up the mountainside where the green was lost in the clouds. With a tremendous drive of 50 yards, I began the ascent. Midway between the fifth tee and the fifth green, my nose began to bleed—but I continued.

It was sundown by the time I returned to the first tee. Tired, sore, bruised, sunburned, and satisfied, I allowed a friend to lift me bodily into my car, and as I drove home I pondered—maybe golf is an old man's game.

first round of singles before Annas came out on top.

Singles, first match:
Cumming (M) lost to Joe Brasch (G), 3-6, 4-6; Robinson (M) defeated Miller (G), 6-0, 6-3; Jardine (M) defeated Telefon (G), 6-3, 6-3; Annas (M) defeated Schwarz (G), 9-7, 3-6, 6-2; Holmstrom (M) defeated Waye (G), 7-5, 6-2.

Doubles, first match:
Cumming and Annas (M) lost to Brasch and Schwarz (G), 4-6, 5-7; Jardine and Bottomly (M) defeated Telefon and Waye (G), 6-3, 8-6.

Singles, second match:
Cumming (M) defeated Brasch (G), 6-4, 4-6, 6-1; Annas (M) lost to Telefon (G), 5-7, 2-6; Jardine (M) defeated Schwarz (G), 6-1, 6-4; Robinson (M) defeated Waye (G), 6-3, 6-4; Holmstrom (M) defeated Miller (G), 6-2, 3-6, 6-1.

Doubles, second match:
Cumming and Annas (M) lost to Brasch and Schwarz (G), 6-0, 6-3. (Second match was cancelled after Montana won first set 6-4 and lost second 5-7.)

Dick Doyle Gives His All; Wishes He Had It Back

Little did he know at the time, but Dick Doyle, Grizzly discus thrower, stole the show at the Grizzly-Bobcat track and field meet Saturday.

After the Bobcats had forfeited the relay race to the Grizzlies, Harry Adams, Montana track coach, arranged an exhibition mile relay between his regular relay quartet and other members of the Grizzly track squad. The latter squad, for lack of a better name, were known as the Pickups.

In order to make the race closely contested, the regular squad accepted a handicap by letting the pickup start the race some 50 yards ahead of the normal starting mark. Doyle, who was to run the first lap for the Pickups, was the victim of a false alarm.

On his mark at the advanced position on the south end of the track, Dick saw Ray Gray of the opposing regulars make a practice start. Thinking the race was on, Doyle started to gallop his leg of the race. Spectators immediately observed the boner and shouted to Doyle to stop. Stimulated by the roar of the crowd and thinking Gray was running behind him, Dick turned on the heat for some 300 yards without looking back.

Entering the stretch in front of the grandstand, the elongated muscle man came face to face with an amused crowd making fun of his galant but futile efforts. In total embarrassment, the fatigued Doyle threw his arms up in the air, then changed his mind and covered his face with his hands. To no small degree did he know he had stolen the show.

Grizzlies Rout Cat Trackmen

Bouncing back from their humiliating defeat against Washington State last week, the Grizzlies crushed their arch rivals, Montana State college, 100½ to 28½ in a dual meet on Dornblaser field, Saturday afternoon.

The Cubs were no match for the Bobkittens and succumbed to an 86½-39½ trouncing in the other portion of the dual meet.

Lou Rocheleau took firsts in the broad jump and the high jump, and second in the high hurdles to lead the scoring with 11 points.

Wyman Andrus followed with nine points. He won the high hurdles, took second in the low hurdles, and finished third in the century.

Arnie Scott ran a 9.8 for the 100, and Howard Domke did 50.0 for the quarter mile.

Bill Brandt won the mile and took second in the two mile. Larry McLatchy won the 220 in 22.1 and placed second in the 100.

Pfeffer and Doyle copped the weights, winning the shot put and discus events respectively. Mayes took the pole vault.

The Bobcats forfeited the mile relay to the Grizzlies as did the Cubs to the Kittens.

Jake Beason led the Cub scoring with 11 points by placing first in the shot put and second in the 100 and 220.

Bill McChesney won the two-mile event and took second in the mile.
